Horseback riding

Explore miles of horse-friendly trails starting from the park's well-appointed horse campground. Corrals come in four-stall and six-stall varieties, with nearby manure bins for horses and hot showers for humans.

Choose the campsite that fits your style.

RV: All sites are at least 50' long with 30/50 amp and 110v electricity, and include sewer and water hookups. Tent campers are welcome at RV sites, but will be charged the RV site rate.

NON-HOOKUP: Traditional tent campsites with a fire ring and easy access to hot showers and flush toilets.

HORSE: Enjoy full-hookup sites for your RV (50' or longer, 30/50 amp and 110v electricity) and corrals for your horses. Access the park's equestrian trails straight out of camp. Note: you must have a pack animal to stay in the horse camp.

CABIN: Stub's heated cabins sleep up to five adults, and each has a picnic table and fire pit nearby.

HIKE-IN: Enjoy a primitive experience at Brooke Creek Camp, a 0.3-mile hike south from the Welcome Center. The camp features vault toilets and communal fire rings.

Disc golf

The park has three custom disc golf courses. The 3-hole practice course is perfect for beginners or younger kids. The 9-hole course is a step up in difficulty, but still fun for newer players. The 18-hole course will challenge intermediate and veteran players alike. Bring your own discs or purchase them at the Welcome Center.

Hiking

Nearly 30 miles of trails wind through the park, including a 3 1/2-mile segment of the 20 1/2-mile paved Banks-Vernonia State Trail.

Mountain biking

The park boasts some of the best trail riding in the state parks system, with several miles of professionally-designed trails to excite riders of all abilities.

STUB STEWART STATE PARK, set in forested foothills 34 miles west of Portland, is known for its wealth of recreation opportunities. Whether you're seeking an easy afternoon activity or an overnight outdoors adventure, Stub has you covered.

Trail Rules

- Horseback riders always have right of way.
- Hikers yield to horseback riders.
- Bicyclists yield to hikers and horseback riders.
- Announce your presence to other trail users before you pass them.

Pets

- Pets must be physically restrained at all times when not confined in a vehicle, cabin or tent, except in the park's pet exercise area. Please remove all pet waste.

Hiking

- Stay on designated trails. Taking shortcuts causes erosion and harms plants and wildlife.
- Leave only footprints. Pack it in, pack it out. Please do not carve or write on trees, rocks or structures.

Smoking

- Smoking in Stub Stewart State Park is allowed only in personal vehicles, RVs and campsites.
